DETAILED ACTION

Specification

The following guidelines illustrate the preferred layout for the specification of a utility application. These guidelines are suggested for the applicant's use.

Arrangement of the Specification

As provided in 37 CFR 1.77(b), the specification of a utility application should include the following sections in order. Each of the lettered items should appear in upper case, without underlining or bold type, as a section heading. If no text follows the section heading, the phrase "Not Applicable" should follow the section heading:

- (a) TITLE OF THE INVENTION.
- (b) CROSS-REFERENCE TO RELATED APPLICATIONS.
- (c) STATEMENT REGARDING FEDERALLY SPONSORED RESEARCH OR DEVELOPMENT.
- (d) INCORPORATION-BY-REFERENCE OF MATERIAL SUBMITTED ON A COMPACT DISC (See 37 CFR 1.52(e)(5) and MPEP 608.05. Computer program listings (37 CFR 1.96(c)), "Sequence Listings" (37 CFR 1.821(c)), and tables having more than 50 pages of text are permitted to be submitted on compact discs.) or REFERENCE TO A "MICROFICHE APPENDIX" (See MPEP § 608.05(a). "Microfiche Appendices" were accepted by the Office until March 1, 2001.)
- (e) BACKGROUND OF THE INVENTION.
 - (1) Field of the Invention.
 - (2) Description of Related Art including information disclosed under 37 CFR 1.97 and 1.98.
- (f) BRIEF SUMMARY OF THE INVENTION.
- (g) BRIEF DESCRIPTION OF THE SEVERAL VIEWS OF THE DRAWING(S).
- (h) DETAILED DESCRIPTION OF THE INVENTION.
- (i) CLAIM OR CLAIMS (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (j) ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE (commencing on a separate sheet).
- (k) SEQUENCE LISTING (See MPEP § 2424 and 37 CFR 1.821-1.825. A "Sequence Listing" is required on paper if the application discloses a nucleotide or amino acid sequence as defined in 37 CFR 1.821(a) and if the required "Sequence Listing" is not submitted as an electronic document on compact disc).

The Examiner requests the use of any applicable recommended Specification

Headings above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 7, and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Mourant (U.S. Patent No. 5,886,589).

Claim 1:

Mourant (Fig. 3) shows a balun comprising a plurality of planar lines coupled to each other, one end of a first line (comprising 116 and 118) running between a second of the lines (112) and a third of the lines (114) serving as an unbalanced gate, the other end of the first line being connected to ground (at 120 shown in Fig. 4A), one end of each of the second and third lines serving as a balanced gate (ports 131 and 142), and the other ends of the second and third lines not serving as gates (connected to ground), being capacitively coupled.

Claim 7:

Where the other ends of the second and third lines are connected to line sections that run next to each other over a stipulated length (where lines 112 and 114 run next to each other at sections labeled as 128, 140).

Claim 8:

The other ends of the second and third lines are connected to each other via at least one capacitor (C2).

Claims 1 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Väisänen (U.S. Patent No. 6,018,277).

Claim 1:

Väisänen (Fig. 3) shows a balun comprising a plurality of planar lines coupled to each other, one end of a first line (comprising 24 and 34) running between a second of the lines (10) and a third of the lines (40) serving as an unbalanced gate, the other end of the first line being connected to ground (shown in Fig. 3), one end of each of the second and third lines serving as a balanced gate (symmetrical), and the other ends of the second and third lines not serving as gates (connected to ground), being capacitively coupled.

Claim 8:

The other ends of the second and third lines are connected to each other via at least one capacitor (60).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Väisänen in view of Westberg (U.S. Patent No. 6,441,696).

Claim 9:

Väisänen teaches the balun, discussed in the reasons for rejection of claim 6 above but does not show a capacitor connected in series to the third line.

Westberg (Fig. 4) shows a similar balun comprising a third line (40) with a capacitor connected in series.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have modified the third line disclosed by Väisänen with the capacitor connected in series disclosed by Westberg. Such a modification would have realized the advantageous benefit of insulating or protecting a device connected to the input of P1 from undesired direct-current voltage (col. 4, lines 14-16; Westberg) thus suggesting the obviousness of the modification.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claim 10 is objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
